Faculty Position in Special Chemistry

The Department of Pathology at Northwestern University Feinberg School of Medicine seeks a full-time non-tenure-eligible Clinician Educator at the rank of Instructor, Assistant, or Associate Professor. Responsibilities include oversight of the mass spectrometry and biochemical genetics areas of the clinical laboratory.

Qualified candidates will be certified or eligible for certification by the American Board of Pathology in Clinical Pathology or by the American Board of Clinical Chemistry or equivalent.

The start date is negotiable and the position will remain open until filled.

The environment for hypothesis driven basic research, and for translational and collaborative research at Northwestern University and the Ann & Robert H. Lurie Children’s Hospital is outstanding. Interested applicants should submit a letter of interest and curriculum vitae via Northwestern University’s Faculty Recruiting Website. When applying, please upload a CV and cover letter describing your interest and alignment with the position. Also upload this completed list of references form to suggest the names of individuals who could write letters of reference on your behalf.

Northwestern requires all staff and faculty to be vaccinated against COVID-19, subject to limited exceptions. For more information, please visit our COVID-19 and Campus Updates website.

The Northwestern campus sits on the traditional homelands of the people of the Council of Three Fires, the Ojibwe, Potawatomi, and Odawa as well as the Menominee, Miami and Ho-Chunk nations. We acknowledge and honor the original people of the land upon which Northwestern University stands, and the Native people who remain on this land today.

Northwestern University is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action Employer of all protected classes, including veterans and individuals with disabilities. Women, racial and ethnic minorities, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply. Click for information on EEO is the Law.