The Department of Pathology at Northwestern University Feinberg School of Medicine seeks a full-time non-tenure-eligible Clinician-Educator at the rank of Assistant, Associate, or full Professor. The successful candidate will display excellence in diagnosis and teaching in hematopathology as well as have a record of demonstrated productivity and scholarship in this area. The Hematopathology Division works closely with Hematology/Oncology as well as other divisions in the department of Pathology including Surgical Pathology, Cytopathology, Cytogenetics Laboratory and Diagnostic Molecular Pathology. In addition to clinical responsibilities and research, faculty are expected to play an active role in teaching and training medical students, residents, and Hematopathology fellows.

Qualified candidates will hold MD or MD/PhD degrees and be board certified in CP or AP/CP from the American Board of Pathology, as well as be eligible for an unrestricted medical license in the State of Illinois. Fellowship training in hematopathology is required. Rank and remuneration will be determined by qualification and experience.

The start date is negotiable and the position will remain open until filled.

Northwestern University is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action Employer of all protected classes, including veterans and individuals with disabilities. Women, racial and ethnic minorities, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply. Hiring is contingent upon eligibility to work in the United States.

Daniel J. Brat MD, PhD
Magerstadt Professor and Chairman
Department of Pathology
Northwestern University
Feinberg School of Medicine
303 East Chicago Avenue, Suite 3-140
Chicago, Illinois 60611